FEDERAL GRAND JURY RETURNS INDICTMENTS

Madison, Wisconsin -- A federal grand jury in the Western District of Wisconsin, sitting in Madison, returned the following indictments today. You are advised that a charge is merely an accusation and that a defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

FITCHBURG MAN CHARGED WITH FORGERY OF IMMIGRATION DOCUMENTS

Pedro Diaz Gonzalez, also known as Daniel Alvarez, 32, of Fitchburg, Wisconsin, is charged with transferring false identification documents and forging immigration documents. The indictment alleges that on April 18, 2007 and May 14, 2007, he transferred social security cards and permanent resident cards, knowing each was produced without lawful authority. The indictment further alleges that on those same days, he forged permanent resident cards. The indictment also contains a forfeiture allegation, seeking the forfeiture to the United States of all property involved in the transactions alleged in the indictment.

If convicted, he faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in federal prison on each of the transfer counts, and 10 years on each of the forgery counts. The charges against him are the result of an investigation by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement and the Madison Police Department. The case is being prosecuted by United States Attorney Erik C. Peterson.

GILMAN MAN CHARGED WITH POSSESSION OF MACHINE GUNS

David R. Carmel, 32, of Gilman, Wisconsin, is charged with possession of machine guns. The indictment alleges that on May 30, 2007, he possessed 60 machine guns.

Carmel was originally charged by complaint on June 1, 2007, with possession of two machine guns. He made an initial appearance in U.S. District Court in Madison on June 4, 2007. An arraignment and detention hearing is scheduled for Monday, June 11, 2007, at 1:30 pm.

If convicted, Carmel faces a maximum penalty of 10 years in federal prison. The charges against the defendant are the result of an investigation conducted by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives; Federal Bureau of Investigation; Department of Defense, Defense Criminal Investigative Service; U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement; Chippewa County Sheriff's Department; and Town of Cornell Police Department. The prosecution of this case has been assigned to Assistant U.S. Attorney Laura Przybylinski.

MADISON MAN FACES ADDITIONAL DRUG CHARGES

Stanley F. Jackson, also known as Oohwee, 25, of Madison, Wisconsin, is charged in a superseding indictment with distribution of heroin on August 18, 2006 and August 19, 2006, and with possession of heroin with intent to distribute on August 25, 2006. Jackson was originally charged on March 7, 2007, with possession of heroin with intent to distribute. His trial date has been set for July 11, 2007.

If convicted, Jackson faces a maximum penalty of 20 years in federal prison on each count. The charges against him are the result of an investigation by the Dane County Narcotics and Gang Task Force. The prosecution of this case has been assigned to Assistant U.S. Attorney Timothy M. O'Shea.
